FLOCKING IN CROWDS TO THE PRIZE FIGHT.

The Dempsey-Fitzsimmons Mill Attracts Great Numbers to the Crescent City.

BOTH MEN IN FINE SHAPE.

Speculation Brisk, but Dempsey Has More Backers Than the Boy from the Antipodes.

IN TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD, !

OW great is the interest seen by the enormous crowd of strangers that throng the city's streets. The Sullivan-Rilrain battle failed to attract a larger assemblage. Dempsey arrived here this morning, but received no callers. Fitzsimmons expects to enter the ring at 152 pounds. Both men seem to he in the pink of condition. Of course the principal topic of conversation was the coming fight. The arrivals during the day largely reinforced the Dempsey contingent, and they brought a large amount of money to back their opinions.

Fitzsimmons' admirers say the betting will more nearly approach even figures after to-day, as a party of Fitzsimmons' people from Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis have arrived with a bundle of money and the Dempesy men may have more bets offered them than they will be prepared to cover. One enthusiastic Fitzsimmons man said he be-lieved the betting will be at odds of 8 to 10 on the Australian before the men enter the ring. What he bases the prediction on is not evident, as the Dampsey contingent has not abated its confidence in the slightest degree. It is the general opinion that the fight will be a short one or that Dempsey will win, and the favor-knock Dempsey out in twelve rounds. Much money has been placed at these figures. Dempsey's friends eagerly take up the bets at the odds, apparently thinking they have a soft thing of it. The theory of Fitzsimmons' admirers is that he will rush the fight from the start and that he will not give the "Nonpareil" an opportunity to display his generalship or play a waiting game. Dempsey's his generalship or play a waiting game. Dempsey's admirers say Fitzsimmons will soon recognize his mistake if he tries any such tactics.

There is no indication that the authorities will interfere to prevent the fight. A rumor was current yesterday that Governor Nichols had written, asking Mayor Shakespeere if it were true that the peace of the State was about to be broken and if any steps would be taken to prevent it. It is not probable that any such letter was sent, but if it was the Mayor evidently was in a position to satisfy the Governor, as the police detail for the fight was selected to day. Evidently the police authorities have not had a tip that the fight was to be interfered with.

SAN FRANCISCO'S PET PUGILIST. DEMPSEY'S BACKERS HAVE NO PEARS FOR THE

DESULT. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HEUALD.]

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 12, 1891.—The Dempsey-Fitzelmmons fight is attracting great attention in this city. Over $20,000 have already been wagered, with the odds in favor of the Nonpariel. A number of gentlemen, headed by Mr. A. Gunst, a prominent patron of the sport, have gone to New Orleans from this city to witness the mill. Most of them have a pecuniary interest in the result. Mr. Gunst has $4,500 of his own money on Dempsey, besides placing large amounts for his friends. Charles Asher ing large amounts for his friends. Charles Asher has bet $5,000 on Dempsey against $4,600 put up by Franklin Hayward.

Mose Katzenstein has $5,000 on Dempsey in Kingsley's pool rooms to be covered by Stirling, a well known sport of Butte, Mont., the bot having been made by wire. Colonel Androws will back Dempsey up to $10,000, but has not yot found many takers. In fact there is very little Fitzsimmons coin in sight, white Jack's friends are willing to place their last cent on what they believe to be an almost sure thing.

However, those who have backed the Australian are equally confident, and among these are men whose outnion concerning the relative prowess of the pugillate entitles them to great weight, as they have seen them both in the ring. Special telegraph service has been arranged for by a number of clubs and sporting resorts, and the report of the fight by rounds will be received direct from New Orleans.

GALVESTON SWEARS BY DEMPSEY. THE "NONPAREIL" IS IN FINE SHAPE AND HAS LOTS OF BACKERS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.] Galveston, Texas, Jan. 12, 1891.—Jack Dempacy, Mike Conley and Tom Mahou, his trainers, accompanied by Jack McAuliffe, quietly left on the B o'clock train yesterday for New Orleans, and this after stating they would not leave until this Jack Dempsey, at the benefit given him by the Galveston Athletic Association on Saturday night, showed up in magnificent form. He is down to 150 pounds and is superbly developed. His three round set to with Jack McAuliffe was a splendid exhibition of pugilistic skill and science. The benefit was attended by Mayor Fulton and a large number of leading citizens, while the sporting ele ment were out in full force. The Mayor, at the close of the benefit, congratulated the "Nonparcil" and heartly wished him success in his ensuing and heartily wished him success in his casuing fight.

Nat Berker, editor of the Sunday Mercury, in a brief and witty speech, expressed the hopes and wishes of dalveston for his success. He told Dempsey that Galvestonians had not only bet their has dollar, but put up their houses and lots, and as further carnest of their faith in his winning the fight they were willing to put up their last shirt. With this he pulled from his overcost pocket a fine silk shirt, and tossed it to the champien, Dempsey bowed his thanks and were the shirt out of the hall. He is the favorite here by long odds, and by his cutet demeanor has become universally popular. Dempsey would not speak of the fight beyond the fact that he will do his best not to disappoint his friends.

O'CONNELL WHIPS CONLEY.

A GOOD SEVEN BOUND FIGHT FOR WELTER WEIGHT HONORS.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12, 1891 .- There was a rattling fight at the rooms of the Audubon Athletic Associ ation to-night between Doc O'Connell and Eddle Conley, of Boston, Mass., for a $1,000 purse and the wolter weight championship left vacant by the death of Paddy Duffy, of Boston. James Swoeny was chosen referee, and James Corbert and Howe Hodghius, of Boston were bekind Conley, while James F. Carroli and a fellow chum looked after Doc's interests.

Time was called promptly at nine o'clock.

After six rounds which were well contested O'Conneil knocked Conley down. He rafled to respond to time and O'Connell was adjudged the winner.

THE CURLERS' GREAT MEET.

PROMINENT RINKS FROM MANY PLACES TO PLAY FOR THE MITCHELL MEDAL.

The great bouspiel for the Mitchell gold medal and other curling trophies will commence to-morrow, weather permitting, on Cortlandt Lake, the first tie being called at ten A. M., and five ties will have to be played off before it is finished. Mr. J. H. Wells, skip of the Crusade Rink, of Portage, Wis., winner of the medal at Milwaukee last year, intended coming Hast to measure brooms with the curlers tomorrow for the medal and the final possession of rink from the "Cream City," also intends being here, should the probabilities be favorable to good curling. There are twenty clubs in this immediate vicinity entitled to compete, most of which will be represented, and the Tuxedo curling feel so good over their well earned victory in the North vs. South match last week on Conservatory Lake, Central Park, they would like to add another rose to their chaplet in the Mitchell medal match.

The National Curling Club secretary is authorized to announce that the Tuxedo Curling Club will give a handsome trophy to be competed for by clubs sending one rink at a time to Tuxedo to play the curiers there, the rink at the end of the season making the highest socre over the Tuxedo rink to win the trophy for its club. The Four Brother, of Teronto, and the American Curling Club, of New York, have already entered a rink each, so there will soon be music in the sir among the bills surrounding the beautiful lake at Tuxedo Park.

BASEBALL MEN PULLING WIRES.

A New National Agreement Drawn up for Adoption by the League and Association.

THE RESERVE RULE WILL STAY

Johnson's Cincinnati Club May Be Given a League Franchise-Other

Bits of News.

VERY one of the baseball magnates nowiin this city did a deal of pulling and hauling yesterday. The Fifth Avenue Hotel was the scene of it all. The corridors were crowded with baseball men all day, while Mr. Thurman had a line of visitors outside and inside of his room from early morn until the lights were put out in the big heatlery. All kinds of rumors were in the wind, but it was difficult to nail any of them, as the legislators of the national game were continually turning deaf ears upon the newspaper men and running out of their way.

One thing, however, can be banked on. A new national agreement has been drawn up by Messra. Mills, Byrne, Spalding and others, which will be adopted by the League and Association at to-morrow's meeting. Many changes have been made, but the reserve rule will remain as it is in spite of the howling from Philadelphia and other points. The Western League will be on an equal footing with the two older organizations and will be given the same rights. This has been done to provide for the surplus of players who will necessarily be placed on the market by the abundance of young stars developed by the League last season. Nothing has been done about the sale system, but many objectionable features have been eliminated. CONFERENCE COMMITTEES MEET TO-DAY.

The joint conference committees of the League and Association meet to-day at the Fifth Avenue Hotel at eleven o'clock. Spalding, Day and Byrne represent the League, and Thurman, Von der Ahe and Barnie the Association. The much talked of circuit of the American Association will be the subject of discussion. As President Thurman has all along claimed, the chances for the admission of Boston and Chicago are exceedingly bright. In fact, it can be said the deal has been fully arranged.

fact, it can be said the deal has been fully arranged. The main trouble comes in Philadelphia, where the Wagners, of the Players' League club, and the minority stockholders of the old Athletic club are making a tremendous fight for the franchise. Ever since the first conference between the National and Players' leagues and the Association the Wagners have been singularly quiet, at the same time expressing perfect confidence in A. G. Spaiding's ability to get for them the Athletic franchise. They have a great deal of money invested in baseball, a finely equipped ball ground and the nucleus for a strong team. Just why they should be deprived of the privilege of continuing in the game is hard to conceive, but there are many persons who expect to see them finally successful.

Boston, through Prosident Prince, has made a formal application for a franchise, and there are capitalists in Chicago who are willing to go into the Association if they can get a channe. Mr. Spaiding has grounds to rent to such a club and is apparently willing to allow the Association admission to his city.

ing has grounds to rent to such a club and is apparently willing to allow the Association admission to his city.

AL JOHNSON MAY GET INTO THE LEAGUE.

The inside of a new deal became unfolded yesterday, which, if true, will effectually take care of Al Johnson, of Cleveland. It is the admission of the Cincinnati club, of which he is president, to the National League. It seems that Johnson, Prince, of Boston, and the Wagners, of Philadelphia, are all pulling together in this matter. They have agreed to stand by one another until all are cared for. Frince has transferred his interests in the Cincinnati club to Johnson, as well as Wagner, of Philadelphia, Spalding did not buy John Addison's share when he took the latter's Chicago club off his hands. So that it is to be presumed that Addison can be induced to transfer his steck to Johnson, too. Messrs. Talcott and McAlpin, of New York, have also expressed a willingness to allow Johnson to take what stock they hold in the club, which will practically give him the controlling interest in Cincinnati.

Harry Sterne, the partner of A. S. Stern in last year's Cincinnati National League club, who cost the latter $5,000 to get him out of the club when the sale of the Players' League was made, is very anxions to get another finger in the baseball pie.
He is willing to take half the club with Johnson if a League franchise can be obtained. The fact that Johnson hoids all the contracts of the players, has paid them their back salaries and has paid all the bills of the club makes his position decidedly strong.

Now the question is, will the League refuse Johnson, who has players, the only suitable ground in Cincinnati ard a clean bank account, a franchise, and instead give John T. Brush, who has merely the franchise and nothing more, a chance to go on? The matter of the Cincinnati League franchise has been placed in the hands of Brush and F. De H. Robison, of Cleveland, or disposition. Isn't it to be supposed that it is for Robison's interests to get Johnson to give up his club in Cleveland and devote all his time to a club in Cincinnati? That is the question upon which the whole thing hinges.

I saw John B. Day as he was leaving the hotel.

"No," said he, "the League has done nothing in the Cincinnati matter yet, but there may be some developments later favorable to Johnson. Personally I have no objection to his having the franchise, but, of course, I can't speak for others,"

A. G. Spalding would not express an opinion, but said the League had already done a good deal for Johnson, and he saw no reason why anything further should be done. Still he couldn't youch for the future.

A G. Spalding would not express an opinion, but said the League had airoady done a good deal for Johnson, and he saw no reason why anything further should be done. Still he couldn't youch for the future.

William Barnie, of the Baltimore club, said:—"I think the League would make a move in the right direction if they gave Johnson the Cincinnati franchise. He should be settled with for the best interests of baseball. The Association circuit will be as I have always said if would—Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington in the East; Chicago, Columbus, St. Louis and Louisville in the West. The Boston Triumvirs will be forced to give in when they get here, and i feel sure that Spalding will allow us to put a club in Chicago. This taik that is going round about Johnson having St. Louis, Louisville, Columbus and Baltimore on the string and can wheel them into the Players' League is all bosh. There is nothing in it."

Al Johnson was at the St. James Hotel most of the aiternoon. I asked him about the admission of the Cincinnati club to the League and received this reply—"I am not asking the League for anything. I have made certain agreements with my partners in the Players' League which I must keep. I can't throw them down' at all, as they are standing by me. If they are taken care of and I amgiven an opportunity to get a chance to get back some of the money I have lost I can't say what I may do. Just at present I can't say anything."

About six o'clock A. G. Shading, J. W. Spalding, A. J. Reach, of Philadelphia, and A. W. Thurman had a long talk in the latter's room. The question of the athletic franchise was talked about, and Mr. Reach has a leaning toward the Wayners, while his partner, Colonel John I. Rogers, is backing up the cause of the minute from the vertical partner, Colonel John I. Rogers, is backing up the cause of the minute for the rights of my American Association partners. "BILLY" O'BRIEN INSANE.

SUDDEN MENTAL DERANGEMENT OF THE WELL KNOWN SPORTING MAN.

William O'Brien, the well known sporting man, whose face is almost as familiar on the other side of the Atlantic as on this, was yesterday afternoon removed to the Flatbush Asylum for the Insane. Shortly before the closing hour a coupé was driven up to the offices of the Brooklyn Department of Charities. It contained three persons.

One was Dr. George Everson, the others were C'Brien and his wife.

The physician hurried up the stoop and in a few moments reappeared and re-entered the carriage, which was driven away.

Dr. Everson has obtained a permit for the admission of his patient, who is said to be mentally deranged.

Dr. Everson has obtained a permit for the admission of his patient, who is said to be mentally deranged.

At a late hour on Saturday night O'Brien entered the saloon of Robert Murray, on Willoughly street, Brooklyn, covered with mud and blood, his face and headghowed several had bruises and both eyes were blackened. He acted strangely. He and Murray were to have left the same night for New Orleans to witness the Dempsey-Fitzsimmons fight, of which O'Brien was the possible referee. When he arrived at Murray's he had his valies and the railroad tickets.

Murray could get no explanation from him as to where he had been or what has happened to him beyond the fact that he had been assaulted in New York, arrested and released on ball.

O'Brien's home is at No. 385 Bridge street, Brooklyn, and there Murray took him after summoning Dr. Everson.

Instead of improving the patient grew worse and his removal was decided upon.

Dr. Everson told me last evening that O'Brien was suffering from a bad attack of nervous prostration.

O'Brien is well known among the sporting fraternity of New York. For years he has been intimately associated with pedestrians and puglists. Dominick McCaffrey was his puglistic ideal. Through thick and thin he remained his friend and obtained many friends of financial standing for him. Though O'Brien graduated from Smith & MoNell's restaurant, he quickly made acquaintances, and during some of the most important long distance walking matches in New York and other cities of the Union
he was a prominent official or backer.
A year or so ago he made a true to England, and there met all the puglishic lights of note. Since his return he has not been very conspicuous in sporting circles.

FROM A DOG BITE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12, 1891.—A horrible scene is being enacted in a little cottage in Lake View, just north of this city. A wife who is soon to become a mother is in the last throes of hydrophobia. In her paroxysms she is barking, snapping and struggling with the ferocity of a mad beast, and in struggling with the ferocity of a mad beast, and in her lucid moments she is begging to be put out of her agony. Her husband, partially crazed by grief and drink, is with difficulty restrained from attacking both the stalwart policemen, who by main strength, restrain his wife, and the doctors who, powerless to awert her fate, gather at her bedside in the hope of relieving her sufferings.

Mrs. John Wagner is the name of the unfortunate woman. She was bitten November 26 by an Esquimau dog and her face horribly lacerated. She was unable to pay the cost of treatment by the Pasteur method, but a physician attended her. Her wounds heated and she seemed to have entirely recovered until last Thursday night, when symptoms of hydrophobia appeared, since which time she has rapidly become worse.

CROOKED TICKETS FROM BUFFALO TO NEW YORK.

Reams of Them Issued by All the Roads Called In and Must Be Redeemed at Tariff Rates.

WESTERN PRESIDENTS' LABOR ENDED.

Reading Preference Bonds Won't Get a Cent of Interest This Year.

A startling state of demoralization was disclosed in the passenger rates between Buffalo and New York at a meeting yesterday of those roads in the Trunk Line Association which run between the two

The meeting was one of general passenger agents and it was called to act on what is virtually a rate war. It is claimed that one of the roads flooded the offices of brokers with the tickets, and they have been selling them very much below tariff. Other lines, not to be beaten, followed suit, and the result is that tickets can be bought from Buffalo to this city at various assorted prices, according to the luck of the broker who has them in stock in procuring them at a low rate. One railroad, generally known as a sinner against

One railroad, generally known as a sinner against the rules of the trunk lines, it is said has 6,000 of the tickets outstanding at a price that enables the broker to make 52 per ticket himself and still out the rate under the regular raris.

The passenger men were pretty well convinced that every road had tickets outstanding. They made voluminous professions of virtue for the future and decided that tarist rates shall be atrictly maintained after February 1. Between now and then all the irregular tickets must be redecined at tarisf rates. The Trunk Line Association will pay full price for all the tickets brought to them, charging it to the offending road.

WESTERN PRESIDENTS FINISH THEIR WORK AND PREPARE TO MEET THE GRANGERS.

The conference of big railroad guns which had een in progress since Thursday at the Windsor Hotel came to a close yesterday and the presidents are now preparing to go home and fight the gran ger idea that they have constructed a wicked trust for the despoiling of the agriculturist.

A short session of the Advisory Board of the Western Traffic Association concluded the proceedings, and the only important business done was the election of Commissioners, with one addition the very men who were suggested for the place in the Hrhald last week. They are:—Aldaco F. Walker, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Railway Association, who will be chairman of the Commissioners; J. N. Faithorn, J. W. Midgely, W. W. Finley, James Emith and E. F. Vining, Mr. Sinith now has charge of the Transcontinental Association. Mr. Vining, who is not at present in office, will be transferred to his position, and Mr. Smith will become head of the trans-Missouri division of the Western Freight Association. It must be understood that all the associations become subsidiary to the Western Traffic Association.

The question of the salaries of the Commissioners will be settled by the Finance Committee. The first work of the Commissioners will be the settlement of the percentages of the freight pool and the substitution of joint agencies for the present system of competing offices. the election of Commissioners, with one addition Washington, Jan. 12, 1891.—The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to day practically agreed to report favorably to the Senate a bill modifying the anti-pooling section of the interstate Commerce Act so as to permit limited pooling of trame. The phraseology of the bill has not yet been definitely determined on, but it is expected that at the next meeting on Wednesday all the details will be fixed and a report ordered to be made to the Senate.

NO INTEREST FOR THE HOLDERS OF ANY READ-ING PREFERENCE BONDS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. ! PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12, 1891.—The annual mosting of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company was held to-day. The report showed that nothing whatever was available for interest on the first preference bonds. The supposed surplus of $1,200,000, which was counted upon to pay the in-terest of these bonds, was found to have been absorbed in the losses of the coal and iron company judgment, old taxes, discounts and other debit charges. Instead of a surplus the report showed an apparent deficit in meeting fixed charges of $89,875. The detailed statement of the railroad, as compared with last year, shows:-Gross carnings, $22,166,450, increase, $1,629,074; expenses and tares, $13,901,185, increase, $1,079,074; expenses and tares, $13,901,185, increase, $1,504,428; net earnings, $8,265,262, increase, $124,092. Against the was charged $2,830,743 for rentals of leased lines and $4,351,312 for interest, leaving a profit of $1,083,207.

was charged $2,530,43 for rentals of leased lines and $4,351,30 for interest, leaving a profit of $1,983,297.

The gross earnings of the coal and from company were $10,929,773 and the expenses $13,080,93, there being a deficit of $151,158. The coal company therefore earned nothing toward its $82,120 interest charges, and its total loss was $973,246.

A great portion of this loss was $973,246.

A great portion of this loss was assumed by the railroad company, but after all that was properly chargeable had been paid there remained $84,36 of railroad company's profits. This was disposed of by charging for equipment, dismantice cars, discount on bonds soid, logal expenses, &c., aggragating $952,211, with the result of a deficit of $33,002.

gating $955,211, with the result of a deficit of $35,000.

The traffic returns were considered very satisfactory. There was an increase in the revenues from every branch of business, particularly in the recipits from merchandise traffic. The new president indicated that his policy would be to make vigorous efforts to regain some of the lost actiracite business of the company. He produced elaborate statistics to show that whereas the jotal anthracite output had increased in thirteen years from 26,890,000 tons, the Resulting Railroad's tennage had increased only from 6,800,000 to 7,500,000 tons, and its proportion had decreased from 3,285 per cent to 20,78 per cent. He claims that had the company maintained its percentage of thirteen years ago it would now be paying interest on all its bonds and dividends upon its stock.

The company has ordered 2,900 new care.

paying interest on all its bonds and dividends upon its stock.

The company has ordered 5,200 new cars, and is building a first of barges to carry coal to New England and intends to recover some of its lost ground. The report was unanimously accepted and freshelt McLeod and the present Bos of or Directors were elected by a vote of 757,595 chares. Nearly all of this vote was cast by the Board of Viting Trustees, which, by the terms of the laste reorganization plan, controls the election until 1883. In the morning the annual meeting of the coal and from company was held and George de B. Reim, who has been connected with the road for twenty years, retired from the presidency in favor of Air, McLeod. He still retains a seat in the directories of both corporations.

A SEPARATE POOL PROPOSED ON BUSINESS BE-TWEEN CHICAGO AND ST. LOUS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.] CHICAGO, Jan. 12, 1891 .- Chairman Finley, the Western Passenger Association, will on Wednesday reopen the case on the reduction to $6 50 of the passenger rate from Chicago to St. Louis. The evidence obtained by the Atchison is conclusive that passengers travel constantly on all the lines at $6 50, but Chairman Finley hopes to get the lines to withdraw the crocked fickets from the market. The opening of the new line to St. Louis by the Vandalia also puts a different phase on the matter, and it is now proposed to form a separate agreement or pool, if possible, between all the Chicago-St. Louis lines.
